BILLIARDS AMONG LIONS. 'An Exciting Game.

Two amateur rival billiard-players, living at Stoke and Longton respectively, have played a billiard match of 25 up under exciting conditions. At the local Hippodrome a lady was performing with lions, and it was arranged that a billiard table should be taken into the cage, and the match played in the midst of the lions and in full view of the audience. The lions were placed on pedestals, under the watchful eye of the lady trainer. Soon after the game started, one of the lions gave a great roar, and this so uffnerved one of the disvers that he dropped ... his cue. He quickly recovered his selfpossession, however, and continued the play. The animals afterwards became restless, and prowled round file table in an alarming manner. The game was complete ed, in ton minutes, and, the players made a hurried exit from the cage, evidently glad that their adventure was at an end.

> FINANCES OF CANADA. Budget Statement

OTTAWA, May 22. In the Dominion House of Commons to-day, Mr Fielding, Minister of Finance, delivered his Budget statement, showing the finances of the country to be in a buoyant state. There had been a marvellous increase in every department of trade, and the country was prosperous to a degree. Immigration had also been on an extensive.

Mr Fielding predicted a surplus of £2,500,000, for the current year, and estimated the revenue for the next fiscal year to be equally as good. He did not expect that any tariff changes adopted next session would interfere with the customs revenue. During the past ten years the debt per head of the population had been reduced from £10; tos £8 fus. The estimated population in June last was six

COAL IN SYDNEY HARBOUR.

SYDNEY, May 22. The second deep shaft of the Sydney Harbour Collieries at Balmain has reached coal at a depth of 2,990ft. The seam is reported to be several feet thick and of good quality.

The above message aunounces the conclusion of an engineering work which is among the greatest undertaken in Australia. The first shaft was sunk to a depth of some 2,800ft; and good coal was discovered, but the seam was too thin for profitable working. The coal hitherto metwith has been the best steam coal, and the mine may possibly become a very useful naval asset.

A Year's Railway Work.

A preliminary summary of the railway teturns for 1905, issued by the Board of Trude, shows the enormous and rapid growth of railway traffic in the United Kingdom. As many as 22,843 miles of railway line are now open to the public, and the number of miles travelled by trains last year reached the following dimensions :-Pastenger trains...... 244,336,000 Goods trains...... 154,743,000

. Total...... 400,716,000. The following figures show the number / massengers carried :-

Mixed trains 1,717.400

Ordinary passengers. First class... 34 930,433 ... 36,077,609 Second class 71,294,217 ... 51,981,000 Third class...1,092,549,070 ...1,109,444,000

Total1, 198,773 720 ...1,197,502,000 Season ticket-holders." 643,873 663,000

It will be seen that the number of passengers showed a slight decrease last year, but the receipts from passanger traffic were greater by nearly half a million than in 1904, amounting to £48,698,000, compared with £48,387,617 the previous year. The goods traffic showed a great increase both in the amount carried and the receipts. The total amount carried last year was 461,162,000 tons, compared with 449,837,615 tons in 1901, while the receipts in 1905 totalled £56,408,000, compared with £55,400,052 in the previous year.

The authorised capital of all the companies last year was £1,396,721,000, and the paid-up capital £1.282,763,700. The gross receipts in 1905 amounted to £113,549,000, and the working expenditure to £70,087,000, leaving net receipts for the year of £43,462,000. This is an increase of just over £800,000 in net receipts, compared with the previous year.

A ros of sea water is supposed to contain about 14gr. of gold.

TRIED MANY THINGS WITHOUT

BENEFIT UNTIL I TOOK CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE. Mr F. E. Lewis, 48, Bridge Street Row, Chester - writes :- Just a line in favour of "Clarke's Blood Mixture." I had eczems for seven, morths, and tried many things without benefit until I took your remedy. After the ECONOMICAL eighth bottle I was quite well again. Please accept this let'er as a token of gratitude to your wonderful "Clarke's Blood Mixture." -June 18, 1909.

IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD, We have, seen hosts of letters from all sorts and conditions of people, in which the writers, acknowledge the benefit they have received from Clarke's Blood Mixture, which as a curative agent cannot be too highly estimated, since it cleanees and clears the blood from all impurition, and restores lit to its normal condition. This is a good testimonial from the Family Doctor, the popular medical weekly, which goes on further to say: It is certainly the finest blood purifler that science and skill have brought to light, and we can with the nimest confidence recommend it to ur subscribers and public generally.

THE RAND COOLIES

In a cruelly callous way the Chinese coolies employed on the Rand a spoiling Mr. Winston Churchill's dramatic endeavour to pose as a liberator The last mail contains reports of a visit paid to Johannesburg by Lord Selborne, the High Commissioner for South Africa, at the end of May; his Excellency wishing to investigate for himself the conditions under which the coolies

worked. Lord Selborne personally examined the "boss boys." Terrible tales of brutality should have filled hi astounded ears. But they, unhappily, did not. The boys declared that all the to have it supposed that we would be whites over them treated them fairly. and that they were comfortable, and ridicule such a grave and serious matter earned more than they could earn in China. They added that they fully understood the repatriation notice. This in itself is painful enough in view of generally overlooked when the question the stupendous amount of inflated sympathy that has been poured out in magnificent machine of war, which regard to these "poor slaves," but a still admittedly more than a match for an worse shock was awaiting for the Under thing else afloat, is of course that Secretary of State for the Colonies to renders practically worthless all the whom-no doubt a full report lof this vessels of the battleship class of possible important investigation was communicated. At Jumper's Deep some of the lobsolescent all the other battleships coolies presented a petition. They de-belonging to Great Britain as other clared that they did not want to nations would immediately commence go home, and that if they were compelled to do so, they wanted the balance of their three years' wages, as they had given up situations in China that the naval supremacy of Great It is impossible to help feeling sorry Britain can only be secured for Mr Winston Churchill and the "misled Liberals" who helped him into the position which gave him an opportunity of making such a laughing stock of himself and them. The ingratitude of these coolies is scandalous. Here are all these good people of Exeter Hall and similar institutions where the logic of facts is honoured in the breacl proving to him incontestably that he is get in a blow. Consequently it would an ill-treated slave and the base ingrate seem that, as far as ships of the will not accept their unselfish assurances, but persists in believing himself-Per Doz. well paid, well fed and well treated. THE DRAGON BOAT YESTIVAL

CANTON, June 29. It has been complained that owing to the ingress of new ideas into China, there has been less enthusiasm among the people in their devotion to this time honoured festival this year than on former years. The native papers say that, on this account, many of the native flower-boats, which are generally on this occasion hired in large numbers, have remained unemployed, and their crows, are, therefore, loud in their disgust at the turn affairs are taking. On the other hand, the more progressive of the papers are loud in their rejoicings that already the propaganda with which they have charged themselves is beginning to bear fruit, and they justly maintain that though there will be some difficulty i first things will adjust thomselves, and in the long run the country will be the richer for abstaining from spending so much money on these useless and extravagant

THE FAR EAST Points from the Press

The coincidence of the bad weather with calculable. If it be indeed the function tations of changes and conditions, and the unfavourable predictions. A strange custom is observed among the farmer folk of taking the model of a cow and blindfolding a man, Isaving him to paint the animal from a variety of paintpots filled with various colours, and accordingly as these colours predominate on the cow mode they read the fortunes of the year. Another observance by which the harvest prospects are foretold rests on the figure of boy, and the good or bad influences are loarned by the position of his feet a hether in or out of his shoes, etc. All these things are very silly no doubt, but there are many people in the enlightened West, who do not disdain to direct their course by very similarly primitive, guides, and to the ignorant masse in China these trifles have a grave and very real aignificance. As in people on hand ready to turn this ignoran superstition to their wn purposes and many Chinese therefore admit that the aituation is far from reassuring."

Working steadily. and with deliberation, scarcely more than one play in every two years, he brought out the true lacrimas rerum, the intense pathos of the commonplace, as it appears to the man who is really in earnest. From the time that Norway failed to go to the help of Denmark against Germany, for a quarter. of a century he revisited his native land but rarely, and forgave it only during the last half dozen years. Now, in a ripe old age, other countries there are, tor, always he has passed away, leaving a reputation more than personal, a national giory that can never fade.

The suffragettes are still demonstrating. One of their leaders is Mrs Dora Montefiore, whose property has twice been distrained upon for income tax, which she refuses to pay so long as the vote is denied to her. She is now for the third time being besieged by bailiffs, white sympathisers hold public meetings in the readway outside and pass food over the girden wall. Miss Kenney, the Lancashire lass, and a well known martyr for the cause, promises that there will soon be twenty-two women in prison if the suffrage be not granted in the next three months. The dissatisfaction expressed by members of the City of London Conservative Association with the speeches and action of Sir Edward Clarke forms a very pretty quarrel. The moral is that, since the reconciliation on St Valentine's Day, there is to be no half way house permissible in the Tariff reform movement. The Committee meet again this afternoon and it is quite possible that Sir Edward may be requested to tender his resignation. COULD NOT PUZZLE SAUNDY.

In some of the more remote parts of rural Scotland it is still the custom of the minister, when calling upon his flock, to have all the members of the household come in for prayers and to be fested in their knowledge of the Bible. On one such occasion the minister, having interrogated the more immediate members of the family to his entisfaction; came finally to the ploughboy, who was standing awe-struck by the door, tremblingly awaiting his turn.

"Noo, Saundy, I'll gie ye a wee bit sary one," said the minister; "ye never had over-much time for teadin. Can ye tell me why the children of Israel made a golden

"Wa-al, I dinna keen, meenister," replied Saundy, "unless it be that they had not gold enough to make a cow."

A QUEEN'S NECKLACE.

Jewels of Marie Antoinette.

Paris, May 23. * A famous necklace that once belonged to Marie Antoinette, and is now the property of Don Jaime de Bourbon, has been the subject of a complicated lawsuit in Paris.

The prince some time ago sought to sell the necklace, and went to M. Froment-Meurice, a well-known jeweller. The latter said that it would take some time to find a purchaser, so in the meantime as a matter of precaution the necklace was pledged at the Mont de Piété. Some time afterwards the prince instructed the jeweller to redeem the necklace. Then there appeared on the scene a man who was known to the jeweller as a friend of Don Jaime. This person represented himself to be the secretary of Don Jaime, and induced the feweller to hand over the necklace to him. He then took it to Messrs Pollak and Rothschild, the bankers, and negotiated loan upon it, still representing himself as the owner's representative. The pseudo secretary was subsequently prosecuted for fraud and sent to prison. Don Jaime then asked that his necklace should be returned to him, but the bankers demanded the money advanced upon it Don Jaime sund the jeweller and the bankers for damages, and the bankers in their turn sued Don Jaime for the money advanced to the false secretary.

The whole affair was threshed out, and the Court, in a judgment worthy of Solomon, apportioned blame all round. It held that all three parties to the action had been culpable in some degree or other: the prince for admitting to his intimacy a man capable of fraud, the jeweller for parting with the neeklace without a written order, and the bankers for dealing with an intermediary without making due inquiry. Don Jaime gets no damages, and each of the parties concerned has to pay a third of the cost of redeeming the necklace.
